Activities Council Coordinates Social Program

Good Luck
all that DOT
So do it
Sackin

Sock hop requires shoeless feet.

This year a council created for the improvement of the activities at Southwest has effectively bettered school spirit and has promoted numerous ideas to improve the social program. One of the main objectives has been school dances. Beginning with a street dance in Waldo, a full schedule followed. The Christmas Literary Society dance was praised by all who attended. The sock hop, Halloween dance, heaven-hell dance at semester, and a dance at the Elks' Club are just a few more examples to prove the effectiveness of the council's work.

Another program advanced by the activities council was that of assemblies. To heighten enthusiasm in school events, an assembly was held once a week. A long anticipated jazz assembly and a Russian assembly were high points in the schedule. A Christmas card exchange raised money for the foreign exchange program. A student directory made it easy to know everyone's phone number. Programs and more pep rallies helped to raise spirit for sporting events. The election of officers for every class made each class run more smoothly. The students of Southwest High School salute these people who have made this social year such a success by their work on the activities council.

Dear Bill

You are one of the most "peppy" boys I know and next year I hope that you are elected Mr. Peppy because you have so much school spirit.
seriously it really has been a lot of fun being in biology with you this year. You're a great guy and I want to wish you all the luck in the world. I hope that we can always be good friends. Have a wonderful time this summer and I hope to see you next year.

Love,

DONALD S. STEPHENS

Vice-Principal 1956-1960

The students who had occasion to seek help of Mr. Stephens can vouch for his kindness, patience, and sincere interest. His gentleness was apparent even in situations of gravity. Even when necessity laid on him tasks requiring firmness or severity, they were accompanied by his desire not only to solve the immediate problem but to rehabilitate the student and to assume the role of friendly counselor. In himself Mr. Stephens embodied a love of tranquillity, joy, and beauty, as attested by his love of music, and he attempted to instill in others that spirit. To this good friend and wise counselor, as a small expression of our respect and admiration, we wish to dedicate the 1960 Sachem.

W. LAWRENCE CANNON

Principal

An outstanding feature of this school year has been the improvement of our activities program. The student body, with the leadership of the Student Council and Activities Council, has done a marvelous job in providing many new and varied projects to inspire the interest of Southwest students. Consequently, participation in the extracurricular program, which reached an all time high, has given us a new pride in our school. A quite noticeable fringe benefit has been a friendlier school atmosphere that undoubtedly indicates an improved school spirit. With the fine start we have made this year and with continued cooperation in the direction we have gone, we may hope not only for further expansion of the program but also for a greater feeling of unity.

Marjorie S. Patterson
Counselor

As counselor to more than four hundred seniors, Mrs. Patterson conferred with students and their parents regarding college entrance requirements and scholarships. She also helped sophomores and eighth-graders plan their course of study.

Richard M. Griffith
Director of Activities

The social activities of the various organizations at Southwest, under the supervision of Mr. Griffith, have been expanded and coordinated. He has established and promoted an effective plan for developing leadership and cooperation among all classes.

Margaret L. Taylor
Counselor

This year Miss Taylor has given guidance to the juniors and freshmen in planning their schedules for entering college or the business world. She has helped to classify students according to their abilities so that they might achieve accordingly.

To Put Fun In Their Lives

Despite their heavy schedule of grading papers and planning lessons—to say nothing of extracurricular duties—teachers find time occasionally for relaxation. A few of their hobbies pictured here illustrate the variety of talents and interests our Southwest faculty has away from the classroom.

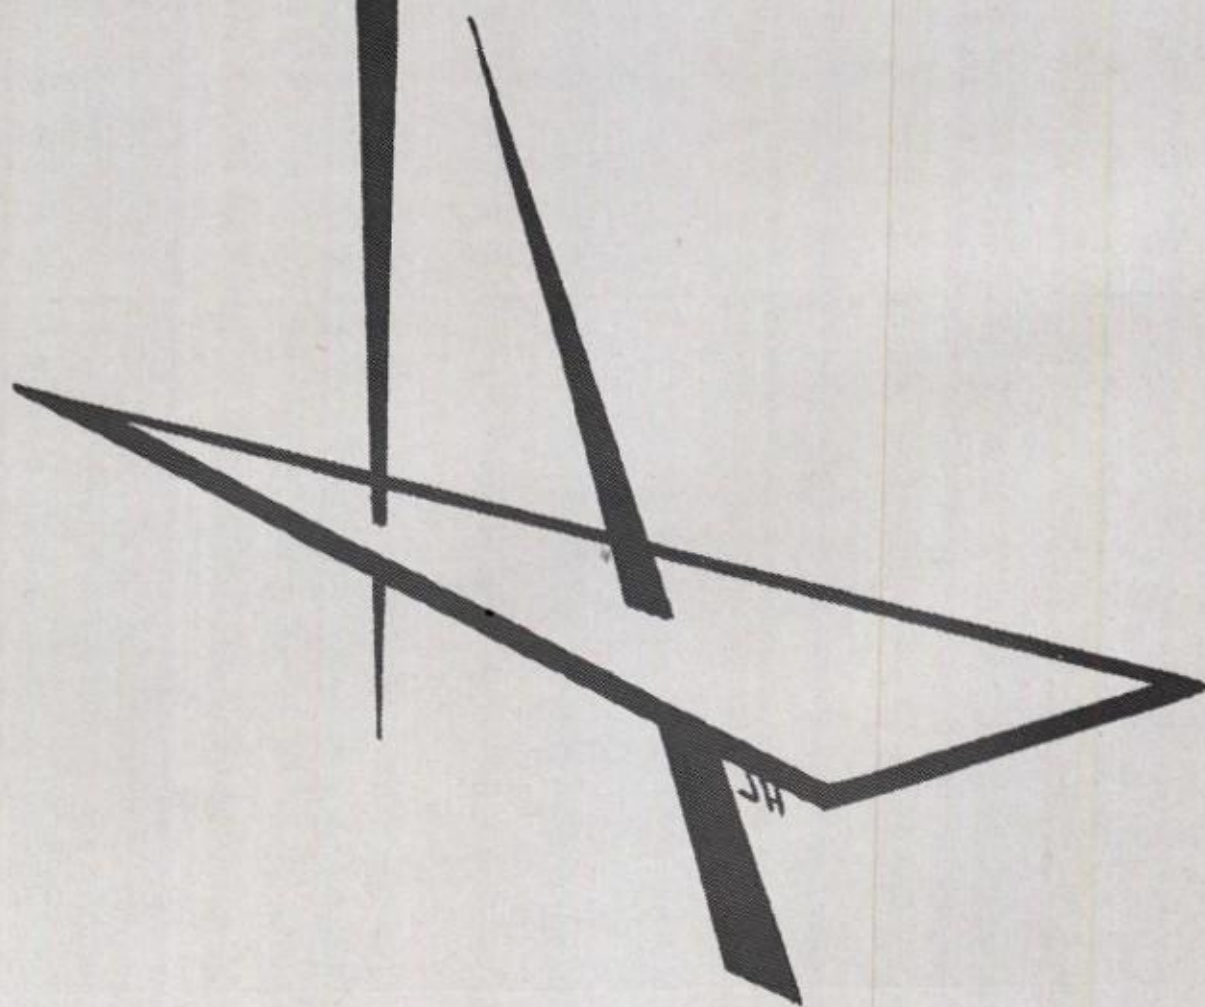

Mr. Nivens entertains children in hospitals with feats of magic.

Miss Cooper puts the finishing touch to a desk she has constructed.

Miss Shipley collects dolls from all parts of the world.

Activity

Under the direction of Mr. Hugo Vianello, the K.C. Philharmonic returned with a program of modern and classical works.

The Foreign Exchange assembly concluded the newly inaugurated exchange week with a panel discussion of the students' countries and impressions of the U.S.

Assemblies Accentuate School Activities

The cheerleaders appeared frequently to cook up schemes for arousing spirit.

General Motor's Preview of Progress demonstrated examples of the advancements in modern history.

Student Council President Carl Chinnery introduced Kay Yasuda, Southwest's foreign exchange student, to Southwest.

Activities and action were the keynote of this year's assemblies. The programs ranged from the classical music of the Kansas City Philharmonic and "Handel's Hallelujah Chorus" of the Concert Choir to the long awaited jazz assembly. Entertaining skits were presented to advertise school and organization activities. Special music was presented to augment the spirit of the season. The numerous assemblies have effectively enhanced the education and enthusiasm of the student body.

Again the versatile Sachem staff was a smashing success in their annual campaign dramaturgy.

During their annual convention, the Future Farmers of America chorus entertained us with a varied repertoire.

At last the long awaited jazz assembly became a "blue note" reality.

Nan Stritzinger and Marvin Marcell, two strangers in town, meet beatnik Phil Belove who introduces them to cosmopolitan New York.

Whether entertaining in the community, at local churches, or augmenting the spirit of holidays, the voices of the active Concert Choir gave a memorable performance. The choir was applauded by critics at a music workshop in Fayetteville, Arkansas, for their professional performance. The group was an important part of many assemblies, formed the chorus of the operetta, gave many outstanding concerts at Christmas, Easter, and other special occasions, and provided inspiring music at the Baccalaureate and Commencement services, a fitting climax to the seniors' year.

Concert Choir Gains Greater Prestige

The caroling of the Concert Choir in the halls does much to heighten the spirit of Christmas.

This same Christmas spirit is shared with the community as the choir sings in the Plaza.

Girls' Choir

The angelic voices of the Girls' Choir describe the nativity scene.

The feminine voices of the Southwest music groups proved that they had both talent and training. The charming, versatile Girls' Choir sang in scenes ranging from the bright lights of Broadway to the rustic highlands of Scotland.

The voices of this outstanding vocal group made a noteworthy contribution to the fine music tradition of Southwest. The Belles not only rang for numerous school productions but also gained a reputation for their superior performances in the community at local churches and social gatherings.

Although the performances of the vigorous and virile Male Chorus were few, their presentations of "The Village of New York" and "Wimoweh" in the Redskin Revels, and their participation in the Christmas Musicale did much to enhance these productions.

This extracurricular activity attracts boys who are seriously interested in singing even though they may not be enrolled in vocal music and who evidently have no objections to early morning practice sessions.

Male Quartet

John O'Neal, Benny Friedman, Dale Mutchler, Carl Chinnery.

The male quartet gave many fine performances not only at school in the Redskin Revels, Christmas Musicales, and assemblies, but also at the United Funds Campaign dinner and at local churches in the community.

The band in action during halftime adds zest and color to the games.

When Brigadoon, a strange Scottish town which miraculously appears only once every hundred years, was discovered by two New York hunters, the scene was set for this serious Lowe and Learner operetta. This tuneful production with such favorites as "Almost Like Being In Love," "I'll Go Home With Bonnie Jean," and "From This Day On," transported the audience to Brigadoon, every man's utopia. The romantic highland background, the sonorous wail of the bagpipes, and the gay costumes added much to this enchanting performance.

Three Tie for First

First Place: Delphi, Thalian, Zend-Avesta.
Second Place: Sappho, Sesame.

Presidents Jane Myers of Thalian, Patty Patterson of Delphi, and Bob Barker of Zend-Avesta greedily seize the coveted cup.

The spirit of the contest was high and the competition keen as the societies made their entrances into the festooned auditorium. Waving brightly colored banners and shouting club songs, each club displayed determined enthusiasm. Following the oral events, the tense moment of the announcement of the winners came. All the clubs except Excelsior became anxious during Mr. Cannon's statement about winning the cup three years in a row. However, final tabulation showed a three way tie for first place among Delphi, Thalian, and Zend-Avesta, putting an end to the two year reign of Excelsior.

The Southwest debate team, sponsored by Miss Grace Breen, participated in tournaments at Rockhurst and William Chrisman High Schools. The members of the team were chosen for their ability to assimilate material and to present their arguments on such current questions as "Resolved that the Reporting and Disclosure Act of 1959 Should Be Repealed," and "Resolved that the Federal Government Should Substantially Increase its Regulation of Labor Unions."

Production

Placing the hundreds of stage lights in the sockets before every assembly, moving the many properties of a large production on stage at the proper time, maintaining the correct volume on the microphones, and attending to many similarly essential responsibilities are the tasks of the stage crew.

Jack Chapman accepts the Student Interest Award for outstanding safety work from Mr. R. E. Marshall in behalf of the M. F. A. Insurance Company.

Mr. H. D. Milhone and Mr. E. D. Burks, representing the Firestone Tire Company, sponsor of the convention, confer with Mr. Brewster, chairman of the Safety Committee.

Southwest Host to Safety Convention

Southwest achieved honor and distinction this year on national as well as local levels in the field of student safety when it was chosen host to delegates attending the first National Student Safety Association Convention held August 30 to September 1. Representatives were sent from every state in the union and from each of the secondary schools in the city. Another achievement was an award distinguishing Southwest as one of the twenty-five secondary schools in the nation doing the most active work in the promotion of student safety.

Representing Southwest at the convention were Mary Kay Nanninga and Jack Chapman.

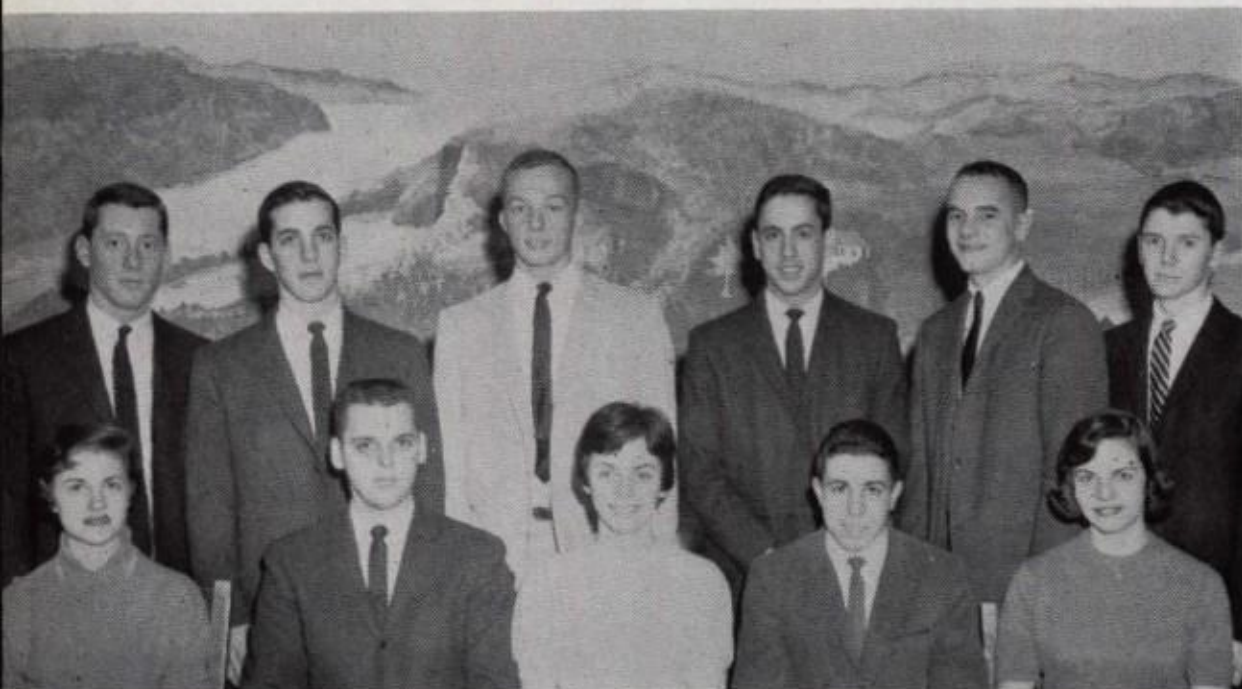

Kansas City residents warmly welcomed the delegates as house guests.

The Student Council, by sponsoring many successful projects this year, succeeded in arousing among the students a greater interest and participation in school activities. A policy of an assembly a week, including a long-awaited jazz assembly, was carried out. Southwest became the first public school in Kansas City to publish and sell a student directory. Students enjoyed a Christmas card exchange for the benefit of the foreign exchange program and many unusual dances highlighted by a "Heaven and Hades" dance at the end of the first semester. The Student Council of 1960 developed into an effective organization of the school.

Hundreds of Christmas cards pass through the Student Council post office.

The Red Cross Council spent a very active and rewarding year. A successful football dance helped to raise funds for over-seas chests. The Junior Disaster and First Aid programs were active again this year, showing students their part in disaster relief. For the first time the council had its own assembly and, through an informative speech and entertaining program, all the students learned more about the work of the Red Cross.

Red Cross classes further students' knowledge of important first aid skills.

Members of the Sachem and Trail staffs are eligible for membership in Quill and Scroll, an international organization for high school journalists. Outstanding contributions to these publications, whether through editorial work, business management, photography, or art are rewarded at the annual initiation ceremony at which membership pins are presented and the purpose of the organization is explained.

Many underclassmen, as well as seniors, look forward to the stirring NHS assembly in May. Then those students excelling not only in scholarship but also in leadership, character, and service receive the honor of membership. Sixty-five seniors and, this year for the first time, twelve juniors were inducted into the society. The beauty of white and candlelight in the solemn ceremony is a fitting climax to the students' years of serious effort and achievement.

An interest in modern and abstract art has pervaded the activities of the Art Honor Society this year. Enthusiasm for new ideas and new techniques has been high among the more than fifty young artists. The first of their projects, a sketch trip to the American Royal, was followed by demonstrations on new techniques given by representatives of the Art Institute and Hallmark Cards and a field trip to the Nelson Gallery.

Activities planned to broaden the knowledge of music have been the essence of Scherzo meetings. The programs have included reports by the foreign exchange students on music in other countries, a comparison of all forms of musical expression, and a report on jazz in church. Working on the band festival, raising money for the state contest trip, and sponsoring a club assembly have made this year one of accomplishment.

Revising the constitution demands the officers' attention.

A gift wrapping party for the benefit of charity.

Through informative programs, as well as amusing activities, the well-informed girls of Hestia learned to cope with the many problems of the home. The club's activities included a wild beatnik party complete with beards and berets, and an un-birthday party with the usual cake and candles. At a more serious moment, the club listened to a speaker from Singer Sewing Machine Company. Most rewarding of all was charity work, giving the children at Carver Center many toys at Christmas.

The aspiring actors in Spotlighters presented, to the delight of Southwest audiences, a one-act play, "Balcony Scene," and many entertaining skits. Besides learning the skills of make-up and stage techniques, the members also made use of the culinary arts with an early morning breakfast at school and an initiation dinner. Serving as hosts for the city-wide speech festival was another notable accomplishment. Through the many activities of Spotlighters, these thespians hope to increase interest and participation in the field of drama.

A Roman atmosphere is created by toga-clad dramatists.

A Saturnalia program with songs and skits, a report by the second year class on the buildings of ancient Rome, a potluck dinner held at Ann Morgan's home, and a humorous skit on ancient burial customs provided fascinating programs for the Latin Club. Participation in the regional convention and a trip to Columbia for the state Junior Classical League activities added much interest to this ever-growing new club.

The busy Russian Club was host to a group of Russian students touring the United States. Since only a few of the visitors spoke English, the members had a chance to demonstrate their skill in "Rooski." In the Revels, as well as in a Russian assembly, the club showed talent and energy by performing strenuous Russian dances. To show their good will, the club presented a gift to a member of the Russian Olympic basketball team playing in Kansas City.

Declining to follow the pattern of other school organizations, the Chess Club refrains from taking tiresome field trips and listening to boring speakers. The members of the Chess Club are concerned only with playing chess. The novice can learn good pointers, while the more skilled player meets the challenge of a yearly intra-club chess tournament.

The Radio Club, whose chief aim is to build a greater interest in electronics and radio, had a fascinating program of varied activities. Theory classes with code instruction were given every other week. Trips to Midwest Research, Western Electric, and KCMO, besides being informative, kept every member alertly interested in the projects of the club.

Operating ham equipment is a basic part of the Radio Club's activity.

Athena, as always, cherishes the hope of capturing the elusive cup in the spring contest. In order to prepare for the great event, the Athenians have presented programs to report on the quality and type of material expected from society members. As a result of the added interest in extemporaneous speaking among the clubs, several Athena members improvised a scene for establishing stage presence during one of their programs.

Some of the social events of a busy year for Delphi were an installation dinner at the home of Sandy Amato and a Christmas party at Carol Ward's. Members also participated in the Literary Tea, the Snow Ball, and the Christmas charity project. As preparation for the inter-society contest, the Delphians invited Miss Susan McClelland to speak to them on the writing of poetry. It was the club's great privilege to have as a member Kay Yasuda, the second Foreign Exchange student to join Delphi.

Excelsior, again this year, showed its individuality and originality by instituting the "new deal" into its meetings. Dispensing with time consuming parliamentary procedure, the progressive Excelsiorites concentrated on new business and short meetings. The great accomplishment of Excelsior first semester was the planning of a banner; and by the day of the contest this scarlet and white flag was a reality.

Omega

Costume committee selects material for the contest dresses.

The past year has been rather eventful for the Omegas, beginning with the "flub" at initiation. During the most solemn part of the ceremony, a music box was accidentally set off, and the girls found it hard to keep straight faces. One program featuring a student teacher from K.C.U., who advised them on declamations, was particularly enjoyable. The Omegas are looking forward to an even more successful future as a result of improvements made this year.

Sappho girls, remembering the sweet taste of victory seven times, hope to capture the '60 cup. In attempting to have a closer-knit club, the Sapphos have held programs explaining the various types of contest entries and several potluck dinners with good food and victory songs. The last social event of the year was a farewell luncheon given for the seniors by the underclassmen.

An atmosphere of enthusiasm and teamwork has settled upon the girls of Sesame during this year. Included in their efforts to prepare winning entries have been talks by faculty members on writing skills and a study night for practice orals and the rating of intra-club contest drafts. Knowing that club spirit is of great importance on contest night, they have designed and financed a new banner to lead them to victory and the cup.

Mr. Griffith explains extemporaneous speaking at an inter-society meeting.

Summus waged an all-out campaign to bring home the '60 cup. In addition to having talks on short story, poetry, essay and declamation presented by various members, the club was fortunate enough to hear Dr. Julius E. Schultz from K.C.U. give pointers on extemporaneous speaking. Dining more fashionably than members of other literary societies, the Summusians held their third annual initiation dinner at the Majestic Steak House.

Although they worked assiduously on literary masterpieces, the Thalias found some time to participate in many inter-society functions such as the fall tea for prospective members and the Christmas charity project. The girls were especially busy making snowmen and other decorations for the Snow Ball. Meetings were fun for all members who loved to discuss whether or not to have a plaque, what to wear to the contest, and which of the new, spirited songs to sing at the contest.

Small talk and refreshments are enjoyed at the literary tea for new members.

Veda

Throughout this year the girls of Veda put an emphasis on winning the cup by learning more about writing and speaking. Three English teachers spoke to the club on writing essays, short stories, and poems, and the girls spent much time perfecting their entries. A colorful initiation and Christmas party rounded out a fun-filled and successful year.

Zend-Avesta, to the disappointment of all other societies, refused to give "Gunga Din" in this year's literary contest. However, these stout-hearted boys hoped to continue their tradition of winning cups. An attempt to learn two new songs, even though they did not know the old ones, showed their magnificent "new spirit." All looked well for the Z-A's as they prepared their trickery and eagerly awaited the fateful contest night.

The work of the five service committees was indispensable in managing essential matters of routine about the school. The Cafeteria Courtesy Committee was active during lunch hours, helping students and keeping tables in order. WE ARE THE INDIANS... FIGHTING INDIANS!

Keeping school spirit at a high point throughout the year is the important task of the Pep Club. In an effort to make meetings more interesting, the various classes presented amusing skits in addition to the usual program given by the cheerleaders. Pep rallies before the games and bus transportation for hundreds of fans raised attendance for all the sporting events. Newly purchased pompons in bright orange and black colors gave a lift to the old cheers. With the help of the Student Council, a gala royal ball was presented for homecoming. Unusual and beautiful decorations, as well as expert planning by the members, made it the highlight of Pep Club activities.

year Bob's*

JERRY ARNI: Jerry sparked the team this year with his offensive and defensive play and will be an asset to next year's team.

BOB BREWSTER: Hard charging and defensive ability earned Bob a position on the second team All-City squad, and an honorable mention on the All-District team.

MILTON BROWN: Milt's fine ball handling and excellent passing ranked him with the best in the league. Milt led the league in yards gained by passing. Honorable mention All-City team.

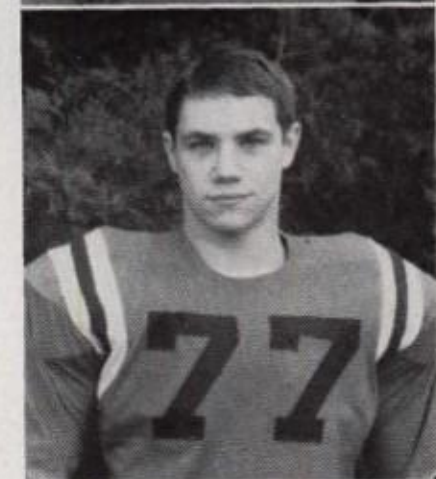

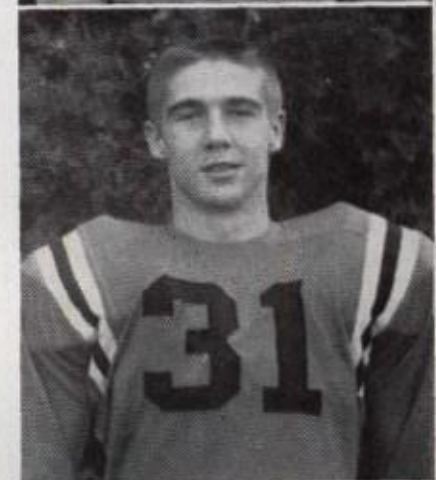

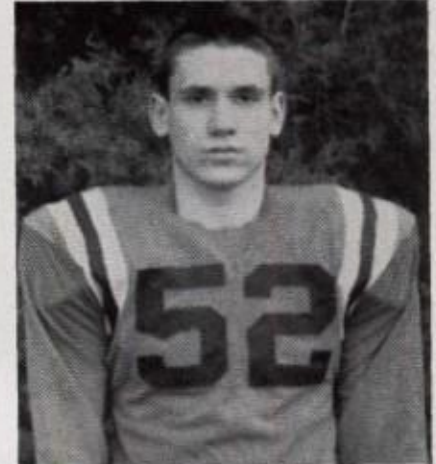

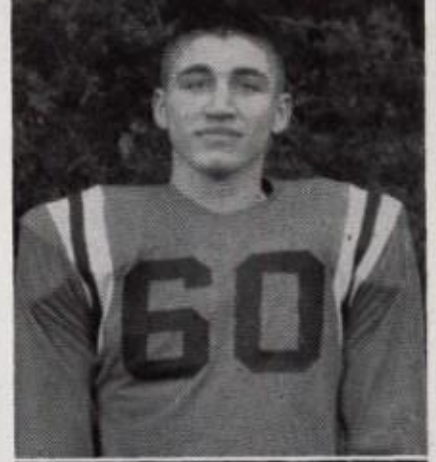

BARRY COX: Barry was one of the most outstanding all-around linemen on the team. His spirit and tackling ability won him a place on the second team All-City squad, and an honorable mention on the All-District team.

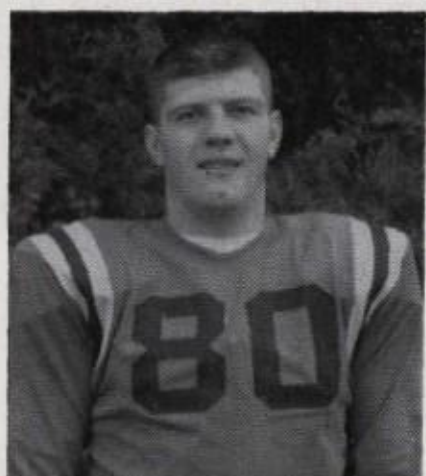

WILL CZARLINSKY: Will, a big, hard-charging tackle and guard, was able to penetrate the opposing team's line to stop offensive plays.

RAY FALKENBERG: A fine pass receiver and ball carrier, Ray is remembered best for his pass completion during the Shawnee-Mission game.

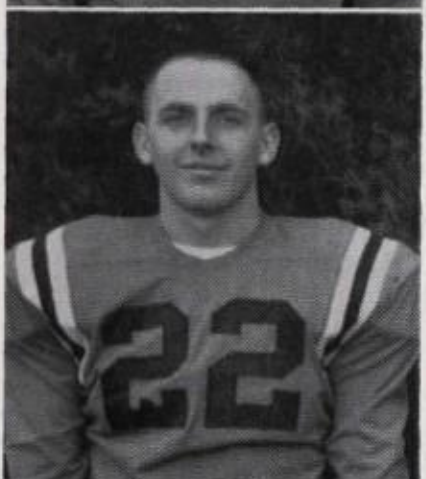

JIM GOAR: Size made no difference as Jim went through many holes made for him in the opponent's line.

CHUCK GREENBERG: A fine guard, Chuck proved to be a valuable asset to the team. Honorable mention All-City team.

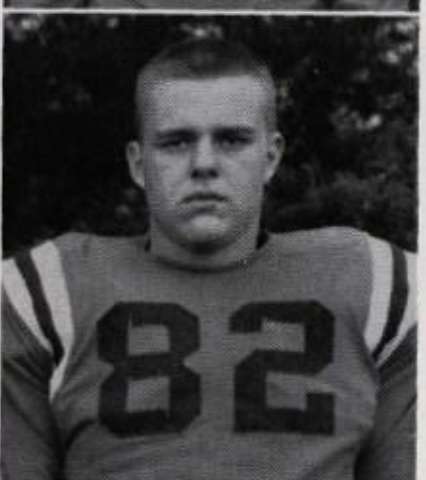

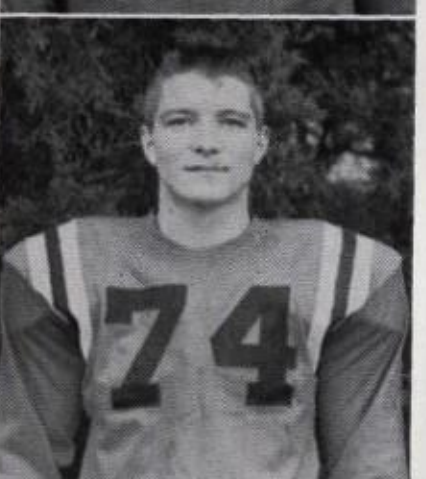

JERRY HENKEL: Jerry sparked this year's team as starting center and as a fine lineman during the entire season.

CHUCK HUNTER: Chuck's ability to find holes in the line and to elude tacklers placed him among the top ground gainers for the Indians.

BILL KYTE: Bill's fine blocking was a key part in our offensive effort. Honorable mention All-City team.

DOUG McGAUGHY: Doug was a fine lineman and all-around ball player.

DAVE MILLER: A reliable, hard working, and spirited player. He would be an asset to any team.

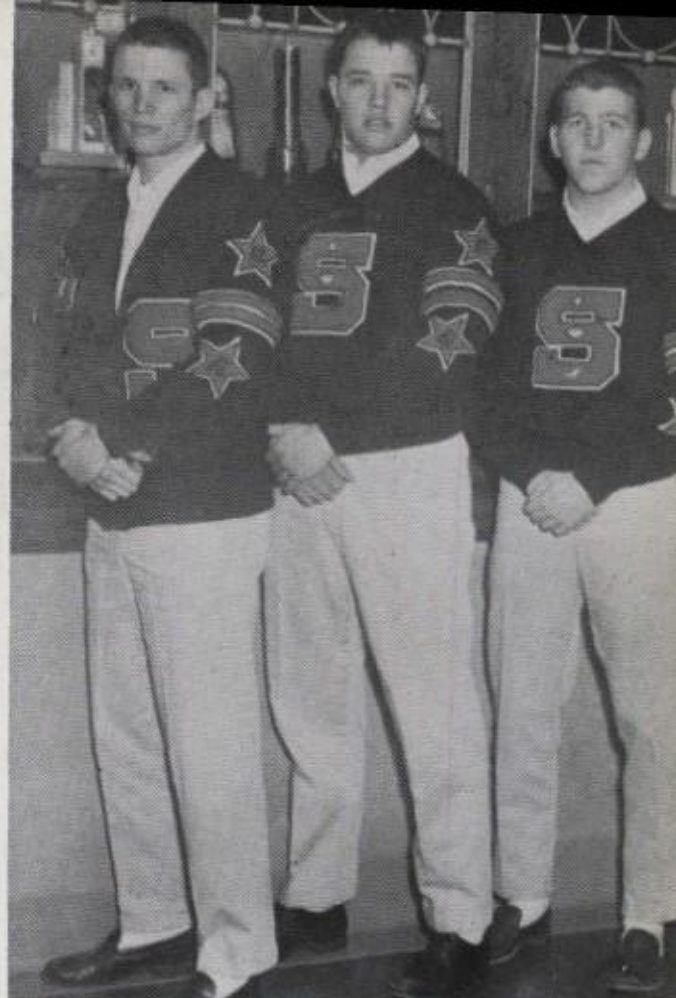

RONNIE MIRIKITANI: Shiftiness, deception, and defensive ability made Ronnie one of our outstanding players. Honorable mention All-City team.

BILL MURRAY: Bill's aggressiveness and maneuverability made him a key man in the Indians' defense. Bill will guide the team next year in the quarterback position.

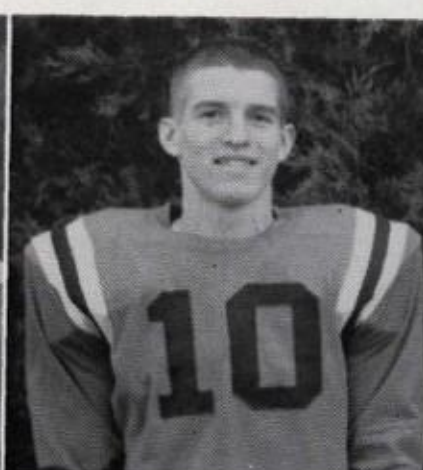

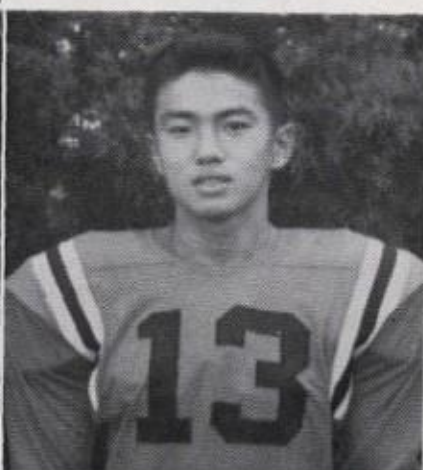

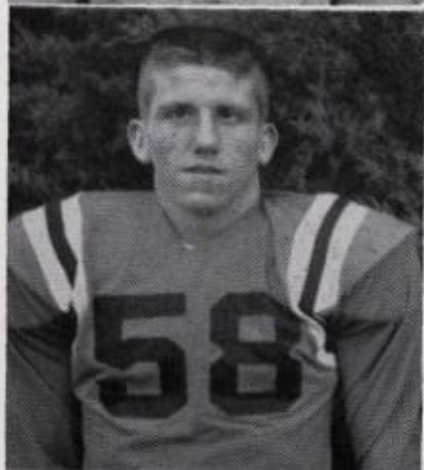

BILL REDMOND: Bill, a veteran tackle, was respected by all his opponents for his aggressive play. Honorable mention All-City team.

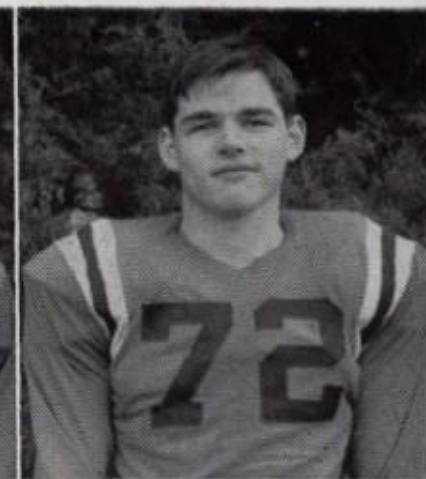

FRED REINSTEIN: Fred helped to plug up the line many times during our rough season.

JACK ROSS: Jack showed much ability and aggressiveness this year as a senior end for the Indians. Jack was the co-captain of the team.

*All-Star team members
Bob Brewster, Barry Cox
and Bob Waldo.*

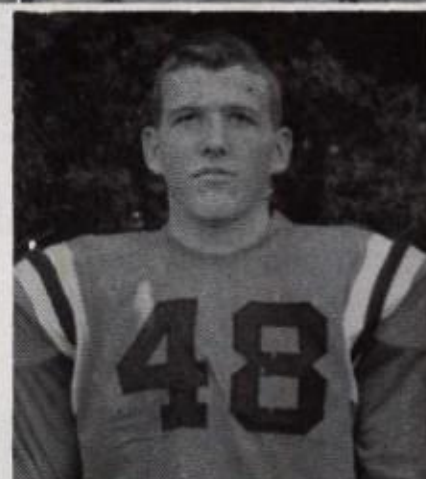

BARNEY RULLMAN: A capable end and excellent pass receiver, Barney made many spectacular catches. Honorable mention All-City and All-District teams.

ALBERT SCHWERIN: Albert, a rugged guard and tackle, added strength to the middle of the line. His place kicking was a great asset to the team.

BOB WALDO: The top fullback in the city, his spirited leadership was a guiding force behind the fighting Indians. First team All-City, third team All-District.

JOE WIKOFF: Joe, a clever halfback, displayed great skill in finding holes in the line. His fine running ability made him one of the team's leading ground gainers.

Hit 'em again! Hit 'em again! Harder, harder!

Tense Regionals Climax Exciting Season

Combs snares another rebound.

Led by the Davis brothers, John and Jim, Southwest produced an often heart-breaking but exciting season of basketball. An early season surge saw the team leading the league, but Northeast put an end to this. This defeat deflated the team until it reached the regional playoffs. Bolstered by a first game overtime victory, the squad gained a new spark that led it to the semi-finals. A crushing overtime loss marked the end of the team's inspired play and the basketball season.

The excitement and festivity of the Mardi Gras were the theme of the basketball dance which brought to a close an equally exciting basketball season. The boys' gym, decorated with balloons, multi-colored streamers, and confetti took on the New Orleans effect of gaiety and color. The announcement of Barbara Throckmorton as queen was the climax to a very successful first basketball dance.

Sports Are Fun for Everyone

The girls' sport program is much more than part of the required curriculum; it provides a restful break in the day's routine, an enjoyable recreation after school, and an opportunity for competition with girls from other schools. Through the varied program offered, every girl is able to find one or more sports in which she can actively participate.

But the peppy girls were always present with smile on face and voice eager to lead each cheer.

Tom Wengler loses his head over pole vaulting.

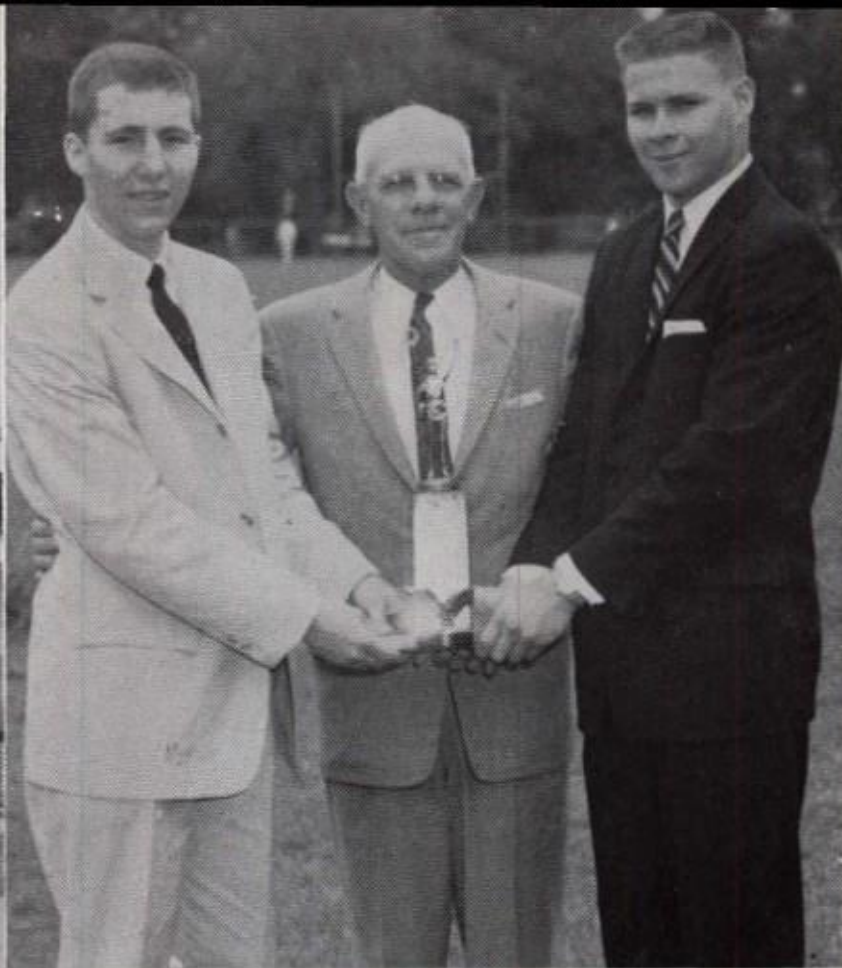

With the loss of such track stars as Stu Paterson and Jim Baker, it was inevitable that the '59 track squad would not be of the caliber of the "great" squads of '57 and '58. However, the running of Frankie Travalent and vaulting of Tom Wengler did add spark to an otherwise drab season. It is hoped with new material appearing that Coach Ewing will once again be able to build a championship team.

Frankie Travalent and Dick Harman do some fancy jumping.

The Class of 1960

President	Bob Waldo
Vice President	Barry Cox
Secretary	Jack Ross
Treasurer	Buzzy Morris
Giftorian	Jo Ann Lamberson
Publicity Chairman	Nancy Shopmaker
Sergeant-at-Arms	Joe Wikoff
Sponsor	Mr. Richard M. Griffith

The class of 1960 may review with pride a year of numerous accomplishments that have maintained the high level set for Southwest by preceding classes. Two seniors were National Merit Scholarship finalists. Another member of this class was chosen Mayor for the annual City Hall day. Several of our lettermen were on the All-City and All-District athletic teams. Musically and artistically-minded seniors won honor ratings at the state music contests and in the Regional Scholastic Art Show. High positions were held on the All-City Student Council and Red Cross Council. Our achievements have been many, but our greatest honor is graduation from Southwest High School. As we enter colleges, the professions, or industry, we will strive to prove ourselves worthy of the great educational heritage of our high school.

The Senior Business Committee

In the fall, twenty representatives are elected to the Senior Business Committee by the senior class. The committee members are then organized into eight subcommittees which are responsible for the sale of senior play tickets, the arrangements for the Junior-Senior Prom, the choice of the senior gift, and much of the planning for the Baccalaureate service and commencement exercises. From the committee, the officers to direct the affairs of the senior class are chosen.

Kay learns the art of carving a Thanksgiving turkey.

Jo Ann Lamberson, Southwest's exchange student to France, spent last summer with her foster family, the Pratts. Sunning on the Riviera, hiking in the Pyrenees, sightseeing in "gay Paree" are a few of her many unforgettable experiences.

Jo Ann with Suzanne and Serge Pratt in their Pyrenees chalet.

East Meets West

Kay begins another driving lesson in her favorite class.

Kay and Hans dance at the Royal Ball.

With the arrival of Keiko (Kay) Yasuda from Japan and Hans van der Flier from Holland, Southwest, as in 1958, was host to two foreign exchange students. Kay, sponsored by the AFS, made her home with Elaine and Carol Hydeman. Hans, under the sponsorship of the Country Club Christian Church, lived with Stew and Staley McDermet. Kay's activities as Senior Class Captain of the Pep Club highlighted her year, while a week in Washington, D. C., at the White House Conference on Education climaxed Hans' year.

Junior Business Committee

Chairman Carl Helmstetter
 Secretary-Treasurer Jane Houston
 Sponsor Mr. Robert B. Armour

Now in its fifth year, the Junior Business Committee represents its class in all projects. These twelve members serve on sub-committees and work in co-operation with the Senior Business Committee, principally on the Junior-Senior Prom. The members appointed to the various committees are: theme and decoration, Georgia Lonnecker, Pat Bengtson, Sherry Ruskin, Steve Melcher; refreshments, T. D. Brous, Jane Houston, Jerry Arni, Carl Helmstetter; publicity, Lawrence Zalcman, Judy Boyce; entertainment, Betsy Ruvel, Marvin Marcell. Through work on the Junior Business Committee, each member learns to accept responsibility and acquire the characteristics of a good leader in all school activities.

Interest in social events found all year throughout Southwest was especially evident in the large and active sophomore class. Class officers, elected this year for the first time, organized and guided the class in its activities. Two of these were sponsoring a dance and raising money by the showing of motion pictures at school. With such leadership, the future looks bright indeed for the class of '62.

Dear Bill,
It was a pleasure knowing you this year. You are a boy with much ability and I only hope you put it
all to good use.
Much luck and happiness to you in the years to come.
Jessie Hantover

Bill,
I've really enjoyed knowing you in track this year. You are really a great pole vaulter. (varsity next year) Have fun this summer!

Dear Bill,
It has really been fun being in Chemistry with you. You are a great guy with a good personality. Lots of luck always.

Love ya,
Debbie Wood

Bill,
What a year in Biology this has been. Ha! Best of luck to a great guy.
Ruthie Lutz

Bill,
We're terrible but even ad a little in chemistry it was time you & guess I am a good person. You are a wonderful guy. I wish you always. Always love
you. Always love you.
Always love you.

Dear Bill,
You see all those neat notes?
I hope you don't know what to write to B.

Dear Bill,

I've really gotten to know you from a girl in English.
Have a blast this summer. Hope to see you next year.

Sulia

Bill,

Spine a good looking guy with a great personality.

I hope we're in some classes together next year too. I'll probably see you at Fairyland

this summer so until then

Good luck

Diane Varnum

Bill,
Next year, you are really going to help our track team. It's been a great deal of fun being associated with you again!

Bill,
It's been fun
in drafting. I hope you have a good year,
next year. Best of Luck
John Main

Dear Bill,
Although I am
better in chugging beer or any other liquor, one you are smoking cigarettes but I'd say better in school work.
Good Luck

Dear Bill,
wish you had been a little smaller to Mr. L. you could have pulled an E through out the year. Love
Dave Oliver

Bill
It has been real nice knowing you these past few years. I want to wish you the very best of luck always. Hope to see you this summer.
Gary Cliff

Bill,
You were A class material - But we couldn't of done our lab work without you as our tester
Good Luck
Gordon Griffith

Bill,
Don't go so high, the can't make the record. I want to set a record. Love Jeffery "62"

Dear Bill,
 It has really been great being in class with you this past year. It is rather hard to realize that here we are at the end of our junior year and are going to be seniors.
 It's been great knowing you and best of luck
 in the future. David Davis
 SM

Well you beat me this year. Next year at our lunch table. Lots of luck it'll be a different story. Phil Monroel
 "B.V."

Bill,
 It's been great having you at our lunch table. Lots of luck with Curtis and next year.
 Mike Burnett

Bill,
 It's been loads of fun having you and Mike in the same drafting class. I know you and Mike will be equally successful so good luck!
